Why to promote on our Gulf & Africa Yellow Pages Network?

- The Gulf & Africa are fastest growing markets in the world.
- The GCC countries have been doing a lot better than both the developed and the emerging markets. The governments in the GCC region have been using oil revenues to develop various industries such as aviation, infrastructure, retail, health and education and thereby spurring strong growth in non-oil sectors.
- Qatar National Vision 2030 & FIFA World Cup 2022- The National Vision 2030 Plan outlines spend of about USD 86bn to build roads, rail network, seaports and airport.
- Qatar is set to host the FIFA football World Cup tournament in 2022. This will result in spending not just restricted to stadium construction and upgradation but also in establishing hospitality centers, tourist spending and associated economic activities.
- A new Kuwait Development Plan (KDP) for 2015-2020 was announced in August 2014.
- World Expo 2020 in Dubai will be a six-month exhibition of trade, innovation and products from across the globe. The likely Government expenditure amounting to USD 7 to 8 bn on infrastructure will have a trickle-down effect on the other industries such as banking, real estate, hotel industry, aviation, etc.
- Africa-The continent is not only the second largest in size and population in the world, but it is also vastly rich in natural resources, a sector which surprisingly only accounts to about a third of the continent's growth. Pharmaceutical and telecommunications industries among others are increasingly looking towards Africa.

There are boundless opportunities at all levels in following sectors in Gulf and Africa :

Oil, gas and petrochemicals

Power, including nuclear and renewable energy

Water and wastewater

Mass transport infrastructure

Consumer and luxury goods

Defence and security

Healthcare and Life Sciences

Mining
